PETER FRANUS

NAPA VALLEY SAUVIGNON BLANC

The exotic nature of Sauvignon Blanc has always fascinated me, and the cool southern end of Napa Valley is the natural location for it. The wind, restrictive soils, and cool temperatures of the region and the distinctive Musque clone all impact the character of the grapes. The result is a wine with mineral, citrus and melon notes most reminiscent of wines from France's Loire Valley.

I produce small quantities of wine, each with a distinctive personality. I have a great respect for tradition, and allow experience and intuition to guide me toward my goal of making delicious wine.
